

5 MY ANCESTORS

- 1
 - a What units did ancient cultures use to measure?
 - b Research the history of the way those units were used.
 - c Are any of these older units still in use today?
- 2
 - a When and why were standard units introduced?
 - b Explain how standard units are broken up into smaller units. Why is this done?
- 3 Research the units that were used in New Zealand before the 1960s to measure length, capacity, weight, time and temperature.

Present your research in an interesting way.

CHAPTER 12

5 MY ANCESTORS

- 1
 - a What units did ancient cultures use to measure?
 - b Research the history of the way those units were used.
 - c Are any of these older units still in use today?
- 2
 - a When and why were standard units introduced?
 - b Explain how standard units are broken up into smaller units. Why is this done?
- 3 Research the units that were used in New Zealand before the 1960s to measure length, capacity, weight, time and temperature.

Present your research in an interesting way.

CHAPTER 12

5 MY ANCESTORS

- 1
 - a What units did ancient cultures use to measure?
 - b Research the history of the way those units were used.
 - c Are any of these older units still in use today?
- 2
 - a When and why were standard units introduced?
 - b Explain how standard units are broken up into smaller units. Why is this done?
- 3 Research the units that were used in New Zealand before the 1960s to measure length, capacity, weight, time and temperature.

Present your research in an interesting way.

CHAPTER 12

5 MY ANCESTORS

- 1
 - a What units did ancient cultures use to measure?
 - b Research the history of the way those units were used.
 - c Are any of these older units still in use today?
- 2
 - a When and why were standard units introduced?
 - b Explain how standard units are broken up into smaller units. Why is this done?
- 3 Research the units that were used in New Zealand before the 1960s to measure length, capacity, weight, time and temperature.

Present your research in an interesting way.

CHAPTER 12